White Bay School

10th April

Dear Parents,

Firstly, we would like to apologise for returning pupils to school late yesterday. The school trip to Blue Lake went quite well, but there were a few unfortunate incidents which we would like to apologise for. As you know, the schedule was:

- to leave school at 9.00 am.
- to have a boat trip around Blue Lake.
- to have a picnic lunch by the shore.
- to explore White Cave.

DESARROLLO

Actividad de writing; Los estudiantes van a escribir como fue su experiencia en su primer día de clases, puede ser de este ciclo escolar o de alguno otro que recuerden.

Actividad de reading; La lectura de la página 45 mismo libro será leída por cada estudiante, para después escribir en su libreta un consejo que le podrían dar a la persona que escribió la carta.

Dear Parents,

As many of you are aware, we held a special day at the school over the weekend. We would like to apologise for what some parents are calling "the absolute chaos" at the First Aid event on Saturday. We're extremely sorry that the whole class ended up at the local hospital. (Happily, all pupils have now fully recovered apart from Amanda, who is still on crutches for a sprained ankle.) A full report of the incidents follows:

Golden Coast Hospital

Report on First Aid Training Day at Golden Coast School

The day started badly as it was extremely hot and the air conditioning system at the school was, unfortunately, broken. We opened all the windows, but the pupils still felt very hot. We realised this was a good opportunity to show how to avoid muscle cramps: with plenty of cool water and rest. However, several children also had the hiccups. We think this is because they became overexcited. We gave them water to sip too. Jenny Madley wanted to lie in the recovery position, but we explained that this was not necessary for hiccups. Then Billy Button got an insect sting. He was stung by a wasp – it came in through the open windows. Luckily, he's not allergic to wasp stings. His arm was painful, though, and we put some ointment on it. However, the wasp sting made the other pupils very nervous and they started to run around the classroom, screaming.

Amanda Blake fell over a chair and sprained her ankle. Once again, we tried to turn this into a learning experience. We showed how, if you had a sprain, you should rest the ankle and try to reduce swelling by putting a bag of ice on the foot. Then Kooky Walters started to vomit. This was most unfortunate and also made an awful mess. We attended to Kooky but then Harry Cooling banged his head on a table. Luckily, he didn't lose consciousness, but he got a nosebleed.

As one of our main lessons is when to ask for medical help, we decided to take the whole class to the emergency department at the hospital. None of them had serious injuries (again, apart from Amanda). However, we realised that all the pupils were suffering from shock (in a mild form). Nurses checked their pulses and took their temperatures and, after they had all rested, they were able to leave hospital and return home.

Although none of the pupils actually completed the First Aid course, we feel they got a lot of useful, practical experience and therefore we have awarded them all First Aid certificates.

We wish Amanda a speedy recovery.
